

Family-on-Mission Neighbourhood Troops

At UZIMA, we believe that families are God's first classrooms, and that learning begins at home. Our Family-on-Mission Neighbourhood Troops empower families to become inter-generational learning communities, where children are rooted, teenagers are grounded, adults are established, and the elderly overflow with wisdom and mentorship.

Using our 24-7 Foundational Course, families grow together through prayer, study, and service, discovering their shared purpose and unique mission in advancing God's Kingdom. Each family develops daily and weekly rhythms of learning and working together, turning their home into a living model of discipleship and community transformation.

Through these troops, families:

- Integrate spiritual formation with practical life skills
- Mentor and guide children and youth in their personal and academic growth
- Collaborate across neighborhoods, creating supportive networks
- Engage in community service and local initiatives to address real challenges

By combining family-centered learning, mentorship, and neighborhood collaboration, we cultivate vision-led, purpose-fueled, impact-driven households that are catalysts for transformation in their homes, neighborhoods, and communities.
